Takeover of InnoLas Photonics by TroGroup

Ladies and Gentlemen!

We would like to take the opportunity to let you know that as of 1 July 2022, the German specialist firm for industrial laser sources InnoLas Photonics GmbH has been taken over by Laser Sources Holding GmbH, a TroGroup company. TroGroup is a globally active group of companies with headquarters in Wels (Austria). In addition to Trodat (stamp production) and Trotec (laser plotters for engraving, cutting and marking), it will develop a business field specifically for laser sources with the Laser Sources Group.

TroGroup already includes the US company Iradion, which develops, produces and sells CO₂ laser sources worldwide. The combination of Iradion and InnoLas Photonics will enable us to offer our customers a broader portfolio of laser technologies. In addition, we will significantly expand our global presence to better meet the needs of the market and contribute to the success of our customers. Customer service will be an important focus. In this respect, we intend to continuously improve the way we meet our customers' demands so that we can further deepen our existing close and trusting relationship.

The Krailing site has been secured for the long term within an independent business area under TroGroup, and all employees of InnoLas Photonics GmbH are being retained. There will be no change in respect of your contact persons or the available product range.

Stephan Geiger, the current managing director, will be joined by Armin Renneisen, who brings extensive experience in the laser business and has held leading positions with well-known laser source manufacturers for many years.

We are looking forward to our continued successful collaboration and kindly ask you to contact Mr. Armin Renneisen (email: armin.renneisen@troteclaser.com, phone: +49 151 275 16 221) directly if you should have any queries.

Many thanks for your trust and kind regards,

Norbert Schrüfer
CEO TroGroup GmbH

Peter Köstler
CFO TroGroup GmbH

In the financial year 2021, TroGroup employed around 1,970 people in 44 operating subsidiaries worldwide, including around 590 people in Austria, and achieved a turnover of 289 million euros.
